Hi Tony,

If you need to report a Domestic violence related incident (not related to matters before the court) please attend your local Police Station ASAP.

I would suggest you block any contact with people you do not wish to contact you or delete your social media pages.

Dear Martha

Your email came as quite a jolt, the first message I received on my birthday. It does seem to be prejudicial to me being treated equally under the law. What part of my email to the customer assistance unit that you found so offensive that you feel justified to preemptively contact me and assert that you will not answer any questions about police misconduct if I was to ask. And even further warm me in advance that if I was to complain that you could take action against me.

Martha I am a victim of domestic violence. That is not something you can deny by not wanting it to be true. I want my claim to be investigated, I've repeatedly asserted this.

As you must be aware, the NSW Police have frequently failed in identifying the perpetrator of domestic violence. I was seeking to contact the experts to in DV that I am entitled to under the charter of victim rights and police policy in responding to reports of DV. Why are you misrepresenting my words and inserting yourself to prevent me from accessing this help? Please do not continue with this behavior, it is both unwelcome, prejudicial and unprofessional.

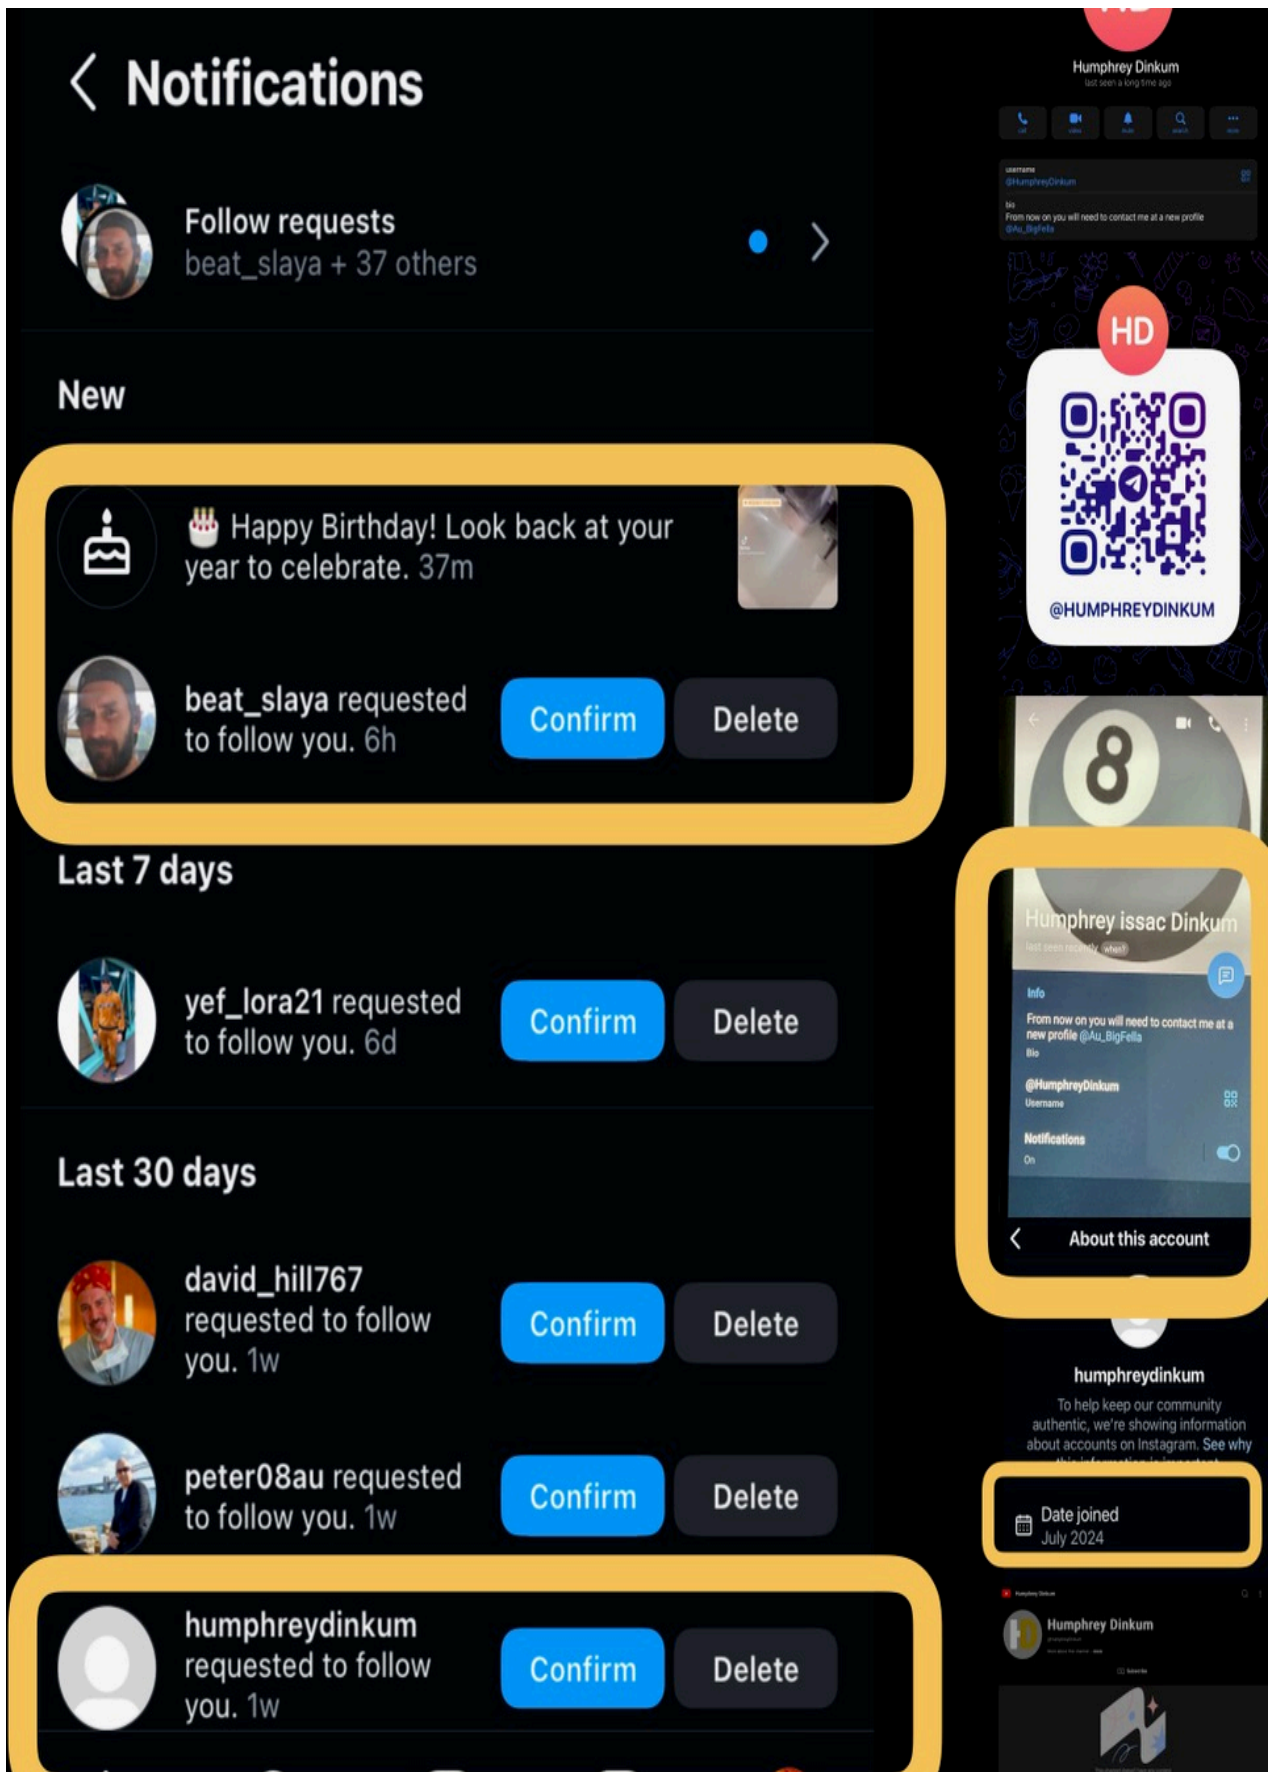

Martha I've done the best I could in dealing with this situation. What could I have done better? I have lost everything and yet I am being victim blamed.

I can not stop this cycle of false accusations leading to police charges, leading to more false accusations. If Issac is incentivized to make these false charges, he will continue. I told the OIC in 2022 that Issac would do this again if he's not taking to Account for the false statement he made. I told this to the commander Gary Coffey in mid 2023. Issac, if not charged for his false accusations will continue to make them. I'm telling you now that Issac will continue making false accusations as long as police continue to pursue and harm and damage me. Who wins out of this, it's not the police and it's definitely not me. How do you think this ends and why are police incapable of being impartial and admitting that they were gullible and prejudice against me. How do I stop this? And why is it in the public interest to pursue me across the nation for harming Isaac's reputation but he can openly sell drugs and never face consequences with the police guarding his reputation. Can you explain this?

I seriously do not understand how this situation continues. Even at my most mistrustful and assume that the police are accepting money and are incompetent. It still does not ring true why this is happening. My only hope to survive is to open the police eyes to the person that they protect, have him arrested for his crimes against others in society. The police will never protect me. What else could I do?

This is Issac today, on my birthday trying to follow my account and that's his drug seller account doing the same a week earlier. This is the MO that he used in June 2023 that led to the most recent charges. It's playing out again and I'm sounding the alarm but I know the outcome.

Good Morning Anthony,

I am writing regarding your most recent complaint submitted 21-10-2024

...am writing regarding your most recent complaint submitted on 10-6-2025.

Once again, I state that I will not comment on this matter as it is currently before the Courts set for hearing at the Downing Centre 10-6-2025. Any issues you have with the court matter or prosecution should be referred to your solicitor or raised during court.

Please note that if you continue to submit complaints that do not raise significant new and cogent information that would require action, then your correspondence will be filed without a response to you and we may consider placing restrictions on your contact.

Thank you for the prompt reply.

I was seeking to make contact via email as well. I do not have a phone number. That would be unusable for me due to a disability and i was seeking the accommodation of email. I am out of state and have been for years and without transport of my own, due to the disability.

Thank you
Tony
